

HEADQUARTERS
80TH ENGINEER REGIMENT
APO #464

S-2 JOURNAL for month of May 1944

The S-2 officer maintained liaison with VI Corps and Fifth Army throughout the month, keeping the Regiment well informed of things of interest from day to day.

The section published a daily news sheet and distributed it to all the companies of the regiment and attached units. The section photographer took pictures of road jobs, ship unloading, dock repairs, and all other work projects of the REGIMENT and made prints for higher headquarters and the regimental album.

The section kept a detailed situation map of the Italian front in the office and another in the regimental headquarters for the benefit of everyone interested. They also kept maps of the Russian front and the Pacific Theater.

At the beginning of the big drive on the Italian front the section drew maps covering the advances of the Allies and distributed them to all the companies of the regiment in order that the men might follow the advances more closely.

On the 24th of the month the S-2 officer was made Orientation Officer for the regiment. From that date on the section gave daily orientation lectures covering all fronts.

On several occasions the section went to different sectors of the front for the purpose of Road Reconnaissance.
