Special Dutch Mission: Senator Ferguson is back from the capitol and a meeting of the Senate appropriations committee, but he's shoving off for Europe Oct. 8 aboard the SS America.

In his pocket he will carry a letter from Weston Mornweck of Detroit to Miss Emma Heynens of Limburg, Holland.

Miss Heynens is a tiny school teacher who harbored many of our beleaguered paratroopers during the siege of Bastogne. One of them was Mornweck's son, later killed at the Ruhr.

He lies in the Margreten National Cemetery near Miss Heynens's home, and weekly she puts flowers on his grave.

The senator will be back Nov. 14 . . . in
